23 June 2009

TPP Law has been confirmed as one of the select firms appointed to the Partnerships for Schools (PFS) Legal Advisory Services Framework which will provide professional support for local authorities as they deliver their Building Schools for the Future (BSF) projects.

Building Schools for the Future (BSF) is the largest single schools capital investment programme for over 50 years. The aim is to rebuild or renew England's state secondary schools estate during the lifetime of the programme.

Mark Johnson, Managing Director of TPP Law said: "We are thrilled to be appointed to this prestigious panel. This appointment is a further boost to our thriving education projects practice, which is already working on 4 BSF projects nationally, several academy schools, as well as outsourcing of LEA functions."

Tim Byles, Chief Executive of PFS said "The advisers on the Legal Advisory Services Framework will be able to bring experience and ideas to complement the skills and knowledge within local authority BSF teams to help them plan for, and deliver, truly inspirational schools of the future."
